TESTIFIES ALSMAN SHOT AT HIS WIFE

John Wolters, Employed to "Shadow" Blanch Alsmann, Tells of Shooting Dec. 26.

JOHN TRIBBEY IS ON TRIAL

Says He Saw Mrs. Alsmann Get in Tribbey's Buggy—Neighbors on Witness Stand.

The fact that Tom Alsmann, 424 East Eighth street, shot at his wife and John B. Tribbey of Posey township while they were riding in a buggy northeast of Rushville the night of December 26, was divulged in testimony given in the circuit court today in the case of the state against Tribbey, who is accused of a serious offense in an indictment returned by the grand jury last term of court.

The case went to the jury about three o'clock this afternoon after the introduction of evidence by the state and the arguments by the attorneys representing both sides. The defense presented no testimony, Tribbey himself refusing to go on the witness stand.

Tribbey gained considerable notoriety here several years ago when he was the prosecuting witness in the justly famous "whitewashing" cases, it having been alleged that a number of his neighbors in Posey township assaulted him one night.

The hearing on the charge against Tribbey began shortly before eleven o'clock after most of the morning had been devoted to empaneling a jury and presenting the opening statements of the state of defense. At the same time the indictment was returned against Tribbey, the grand jury also indicted Mrs. Blanch Alsmann, wife of Tom Alsmann, whose case is pending. Motions in both cases to quash the indictments, were overruled by Judge Sparks recently.

John Wolters, former city policeman, the first witness for the state, testified to seeing Alsmann shoot at his wife and Tribbey. He told the jury he had been employed by Alsmann to "shadow" his wife and Tribbey and that on the night in which the alleged shooting took place, he saw Mrs. Alsmann get in a buggy with Tribbey at the corner of Seventh and Spencer streets.

Wolters testified that Alsmann was also watching his wife, but that they were not together. Tribbey and Mrs. Alsmann drove north in Spencer street towards the country. Wolters and Alsmann following, the witness stated. The horse was driven into a run, he said, and Alsmann close behind. When the horse began to run, Alsmann fired, according to the testimony.

At the time of the alleged shooting, there were rumors that Mrs. Alsmann had been shot by a "spent" bullet and that only a slight flesh wound in the shoulder was inflicted. No arrests were ever made, with the result that none of the facts ever became public.

Mrs. Tillie Mabry, colored, who lives across the street from the Alsmann home, and was second witness for the state, testified that she knew both Tribbey and Mrs. Alsmann and that she had seen Tribbey enter the Alsmann home frequently. She estimated that, as far as her knowledge of the case went, that Tribbey had gone to Alsmann's house on an average of once a week, for the last two years.

Mrs. Mabry stated that he entered as if it were his own home, and that he remained "for hours". She said that Tribbey generally went in at the side door, and that of Mrs. Alsmann's children were not out in the yard playing, they soon came out of the house after Tribbey entered.

John Ferguson, colored, who lives on the same side of the street as Alsmann's, about a half a block west, testified that he had also seen Tribbey.

(By United Press.)

Paris, Feb. 20.—French authorities were conducting a sweeping investigation today in connection with the attack on Premier Clemenceau. The officials were working on a theory that the attack may have been part of a plot against the principle allied leaders.

Clemenceau was resting easy and no serious results had developed.

German Junkers Try to Organize Strong Movement in Germany Against Poland.

PRES. WILSON IS CRITICIZED

(By United Press.)

Warsaw, Feb. 20.—German forces in eastern Russia are still bearing the old imperial flag, according to reports brought by fugitives to the American mission here. They also say that the junkers have undertaken to organize a strong movement in Germany against Poland.

Poland's financial situation, according to members of the mission, will necessitate sending a high financial expert there.

France may ask Poland to assume a portion of Russia's indebtedness in considering the large sums that Russia spent on Polish railways. President Wilson is being made the object of unfavorable reports circulated throughout Poland.

WELCOMES BRIDEGROOM

Senate Interrupts Law Making to Receive L. W. Duffey and Bride

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—The senate interrupted its lawmaking yesterday afternoon to give an enthusiastic welcome to Senator Luke W. Duffey of Indianapolis and his bride who was Miss Mary Amos of Rushville. The marriage took place Tuesday. Senator Duffey arrived in time to cast the deciding vote on the Marion county judges' salary bill, giving it a constitutional majority of 26.

SLIM CHANCE FOR MOVIES ON SUNDAY

LACKS ONE VOTE OF PASSING

Measure Will be Called up For Another Test Because Largest Vote Favored Passage.

Prospects of moving pictures shows on Sunday being legalized by the state legislature, seemed slight today after the action of the senate last night in failing to give the Sunday movie bill a constitutional majority. The final vote was 25 to 23, lacking only one vote of being passed.

The fact that the larger vote was in favor of passage permits the bill to be called again for consideration, and Senator McCray, its author, said that he would call it up for a second vote at the first opportunity.

A recess of ten minutes was ordered at 5 o'clock, during the suspended roll call, to have doorkeepers search for Senator Ratts an absentee. These officials reported that the senator could not be found. The vote was declared closed.

Although an attempt was made by a motion of Senator Bracken to excuse the absentees from voting, a counter motion to table Senator Bracken's proposal made by Senator English was adopted. Senator Bracken then moved to adjourn, but Lieutenant Governor Bush declared with emphasis that he would entertain no motion to adjourn at that time.

The motion picture measure was called up for third reading by Senator Edward B. James of Dana, an opponent. He yielded the floor at once to Senator McCray, author of the bill, who began the fight for passage.

To make absolutely certain that there was no misunderstanding of the provisions of the bill the senator read twice slowly and carefully. Sec. 1 of the measure, in which is contained the clause legalizing Sunday motion picture performances. The clause reads as follows:

"Provided further, That nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the operation of motion picture exhibitions of a historical, moral, educational or amusing nature, in any city or town after the hour of 1:30 p. m., on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday, provided the same shall be authorized by the Common Council or town board of such city or town."

The bill is an amendment to Sec. 467 of the criminal code pertaining to Sunday violations, approved in 1905 and amended in 1909.

NOT WARRANTED BY FACTS

Conditions in Northern Russia Exaggerated, Commander Cables.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 20.—The allied command is capable of taking care of charges against the whole Bolshevik army in northern Russia, Col. George Stewart, American commander, today cabled the war department. "The alarming reports of conditions in northern Russia are not warranted by the facts", he said. "Troops have been well taken care of in every way and my office resents the exaggerated report."

Health of the command is excellent, he said, and sick and wounded were well taken care of.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Motion for a new trial and for a stay of sentence were made before Federal Judge Landis here today in the case of Victor Berger, socialist congressman, and four other socialist leaders.

HIGHWAY BILL TO PASS IN THE HOUSE

Measure Creating State Commission Scheduled to be Adopted Late This Afternoon.

MAJORITY BOUND BY CAUCUS.

Changes Include Amendment for Counties to Receive Auto License Fees up to $800,000.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—The state highway commission bill, changed in many important respects, was to be passed by the house of representatives this afternoon under suspension of the rules. The tax bill was also to be put through if possible. The committee, directed by the republican caucus which amended the highway commission bill, was ready to report to the house, and the caucus had agreed that the bill would receive the full support of the majority.

The important changes are: counties to receive $800,000 auto license fees and all in excess of that estimated amount to be given to the state highway fund; bids must be received on three different kinds of materials; the tax levy increased to 15 mills; salaries of all employees to be fixed by the commission.

The Demaree bill providing for establishment of a state police force, was defeated in the house when a committee report recommending indefinite postponement, was adopted without discussion. The house passed the Miltenberger bill increasing the pay of electing officers to $3 a day. The southern bill allowing the state to sell swamp land in order to raise money to drain other swamp land, was also passed by the house.

The effort to unseat Senator Joseph Cravens, Madison, a democrat, was defeated when Senator Dobyns, chairman of the election committee of the upper house, reported that there was insufficient evidence to bring against Cravens.

Senator Negley introduced a joint resolution providing for appointment of a state hygiene commission of six members. The expense of the commission shall be paid out of the governor's contingent fund.

The Symons bill providing for increase in the salaries of judges of circuit and supreme courts, failed to pass the house for lack of a constitutional majority.

DENIES CHARGE MADE BY GOVERNOR ALLEN

Commander of 35th Division Says Men Were not Mishandled in Battle of the Argonne.

SHORTAGE OF FOOD, HE SAYS.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 20.—Charges that the 35th division was mishandled and not properly taken care of in the battle of the Argonne are not well founded, Major General Traub, the division's commander, told the house rules committee today.

Questioned concerning the charges of Governor Allen, of Kansas, he said: "The conditions were unavoidable under condition of battle. Everything possible was done for the wounded." Traub maintained the forces had something to eat although there was a shortage of food.

"I lived on bread, jam and cigarettes for five days myself and the men in general had all they wanted to eat under war conditions," Traub declared. "We did in three hours what France had been doing in three years."

Tobacco seeds are so minute that a thimbleful will furnish enough plants for an acre of ground.

STORMS DELAY TRANSPORTS

Eighteen Troop Ships Overdue are Weathering Gale.

(By United Press.)

New York, Feb. 20.—Severe storms sweeping the Atlantic have delayed the arrival here of 18 transports carrying nearly 20,000 men. Wireless reports today stated that all the ships were weathering the gale but that many would be several days overdue. Some have been forced to run to Bermuda for coal and repairs, the message said.

PRESIDENT MAY BE DELAYED BY STORM

George Washington May Not Reach Boston Before Tuesday Because Heavy Gale at Sea.

SENDS WIRE TO CLEMENCEAU

(By United Press.)

Boston, Feb. 20.—The transport, George Washington, is expected to arrive in Boston Monday, according to a wireless message today to Admiral Wood, of the first naval district. The information came from one of the vessels conveying the president's ship. The George Washington will bring the troops aboard to Hoboken for landing after leaving the president at Boston.

Aboard the United States Steamship, George Washington, Feb. 20. While planning to reach Boston Monday, President Wilson may be delayed until Tuesday by a gale which sprang up Wednesday afternoon. The strong wind was accompanied by a driving rain.

The president has not decided whether he will address a joint session of congress on the league of nations, but it is believed that he will do so. He sent the following to the American mission at Paris:

"Please convey to Premier Clemenceau my heart-felt sympathy and my joy at his escape. I sincerely hope that the report that he was only injured slightly is altogether true. I was deeply shocked by the news of the attack."

D. IRA LAMBERT MODERATOR

A meeting of the Presbytery of the First Presbyterian church was held here yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Dr. Ira Lambert acting as moderator. The meeting was called to dissolve pastoral relationship between the Rev. G. M. Whiteknack and the First Presbyterian church of Knightstown. The Rev. Mr. Whiteknack has been pastor of the Knightstown (Presbyterian) church for a period of six years, coming from a large church in eastern Ohio to accept the pastorate there and will take up the pastorate of a large church in Salem, Ohio.

The following pastors and laymen were present: the Rev. Ira Lambert, moderator, J. M. Wrist, Mr. Maple and Mr. Calloway, of Knightstown representing the church there; Dr. W. H. Reynolds of Greensburg; the Rev. A. K. Staiger, the Rev. J. R. Bardiemer and J. R. Leffingwell of Connersville, and Judge Wilson of Shelbyville. New Era plans were discussed at the close of the business meeting.

Through the kindness of the Food Administration 160,000 pounds of shipping space in grain vessels is given daily to baled clothing collected through the Red Cross for the Belgians.

TO PUT AN END TO THE CHURCH SOCIAL

Centenary Movement Aim is to do Away With Financing Methods Used Decades.

4 WEEKS TITHERS CAMPAIGN.

H. A. Truesdale of Cnneaut, O., Leader of Stewardship Drive, will be Here Sunday.

The ice cream social and oyster supper method of church financing in the Methodist Episcopal church, for many decades the more or less unfailing resource when the pastor's salary was in arrears or the benevolences were short, is to give way to system, if the Centenary movement is successful in its aims, says an announcement by Centenary leaders.

St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church of this city is joining for the next four weeks with other churches of the denomination throughout the country in the greatest campaign for tithers ever undertaken by a great Protestant church. The goal is "a million tithers in Methodism", one member out of every five, who will agree to devote at least one-tenth of his income to religious work.

To the Cincinnati Area (Ohio, Kentucky and Southern Indiana) 125,000 of these are appointed. In this territory the "Stewardship Drive", as this part of the Centenary program is called, is under the leadership of H. A. Truesdale of Cnneaut, Ohio. He has organized committees at work in each local church in the entire Area. Mr. Truesdale has locked the door on his own business interests for six months in order that all of his time may be given to this phase of the Centenary program. The Rev. Clyde S. Black has secured Mr. Truesdale for the local church for Sunday morning, February 23. He has a wonderful message, it is stated.

"The old days when the church fair, oyster supper and the ice cream social were the trusted cornerstones of the church finance, are passing away" says "Missiles" organ of the Methodist Minute Men.

"The tithe would remove 90 per cent of the friction in the churches. A survey of the last four years, covering nearly one hundred churches, reveals the astonishing evidence that most of the church quarrels sprang from poor finances. Tithing would have reduced the occasions for trouble to a minimum.

HAVE NO NEWS OF SON BEING WOUNDED

Mr. and Mrs. George Inlow Know Nothing About Private Donald Inlow, Reported as Casual.

IS NOW AT CAMP SHERMAN, O.

Mr. and Mrs. George Inlow of Ma-nilla have no knowledge of their son, Private Donald Inlow, being wounded while in the service in France. His name appears in today's casualty list issued by the war department at Washington, as having been wounded slightly, but Mr. and Mrs. Inlow have never received any word directly from the government or from their son himself that he was wounded.

Private Inlow is now at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, having arrived from overseas a few weeks ago. He was among the first Rush county men to enter the service and was in France several months.

It is believed that Private Inlow's wounds were very slight, else the government would have notified his parents and he himself would have written them. Private Inlow is a nephew of Will Inlow of this city.

EXTRA LONG WEAR FROM SHOES

T. D. Collins of Ookala, Hawaii, makes a remarkable statement which demonstrates the money-saving durability of Neolin Soles.

He writes, "After wearing a pair of Neolin-soled shoes off and on for thirty-three months, I wore them on a trip to the volcano of Kilauea and walked around the crater over hot lava six times and still the soles showed only slight signs of wear."

This experience is not accidental. It results from the scientific process by which Neolin Soles are made to be exactly what soles should be—comfortable, waterproof and exceedingly economical because of the long wear they give.

Get them on new shoes for all members of the family and have them put on worn shoes. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

UNCLE SAM DEALS WITH TAXDODGERS

New Revenue Bill Provides the Severest Penalties for Those Who Evade Paying Taxes

ROPER MAKES STATEMENT.

Taxdodger will be Punished to the Full Extent of Civil and Criminal Laws.

How does Uncle Sam deal with taxdodgers? This inquiry, which was prompted by the severe penalties provided in the new revenue bill, has brought from Commissioner D. C. Roper a frank statement as to the internal revenue bureau's attitude toward those who attempt to evade taxation.

"Any person who deliberately conceals tax liability, or who falsifies a return in order to reduce or evade any internal revenue, or who deliberately abets such concealment or fraud, finds arrayed against him the entire strength of this Bureau pressing for full civil and criminal penalties. That is the attitude toward the tax-dodger, expressed in one sentence. Whether he is a moonshiner, a stealthy trafficker in habit-forming drugs, or juggles of income figures, a delinquent in making the sworn return the law requires, or a revenue violator of an other kind, the bureau is charged with the duty of hunting him out and exacting the full punishment provided in the law.

"Toward the taxpayer who means to comply with the internal revenue laws, fully and honestly, the bureau extends a helping hand. Cooperation with the taxpayer is out watchword and objective.

"These two contrasts—the teeth of the law for the tax-dodger and violator, and the aid of every lawful agency for the voluntary taxpayer—are policies necessary to the administration of tax laws under modern conditions.

"One of the most difficult of the many problems in tax collecting is to classify those who fail to fulfill the obligations imposed by law. The Bureau is obliged to maintain a large staff and to use the utmost discretion in properly labeling these cases. Even-handed justice is a heavy responsibility and only through careful siftings can delinquents be classified.

"There are three distinct classes of delinquency with which we have to do: First, the taxpayer who had reasonable cause, brought about by exceptional conditions beyond his control; secondly, the fellow who didn't look up or didn't realize his obligations; and thirdly, the person who willfully evaded compliance with the law.

"As for the man who shows a reasonable cause within certain lines established by the bureau, no penalties are asserted. All other delinquents are more carefully investigated before prosecution is begun. Many of these offenses are caused by ignorance and negligence. Failure to make the reports required by law may in some cases warrant severe penalty for failure to make return. However, if the delinquent takes immediate corrective action, and it is clearly established through investigation that he did not willfully violate the law, the Bureau allows him to compromise his liability to specific penalty by tendering a nominal sum of money. In such instances the money is not really in compromise but assessed to impress the taxpayer against future violations.

"But there is no relief, no compromise, for the man who willfully falsifies. He is classed with other law-breakers in the eyes of the Bureau, and is vigorously prosecuted in the courts. No other course is open to the Bureau, in meeting fairly and squarely the demand of the willing taxpayer "I will—the other man must". There is a solemn responsibility thus existing between the honest taxpayer and the Bureau to locate and punish the dishonest tax-dodger.

bey enter Alsmans home many times. One occasion, he said, Tribbey went into the house from the rear. He declared he had observed that the Alsmans children were not at home when Tribbey was there. Ferguson said that Tribbey went into the house boldly. He was the last witness for the state before the noon adjournment of court.

The jury hearing the case is composed of the following men: John A. Jones, John L. Clark, Edgar Noble, Albert J. Reddick, A. L. Chew, Rufus Rhodes, Charles Leisure, Clem Bowen, J. E. Farthing, Harold Wolcott, Bert Osborne, Charles French.

Mrs. William Hoarde testified that she lived next door to the Alsmans for a period of six years and had seen Tribbey visit there frequently, once a week and some times oftener. She testified that she had nothing to do with Mrs. Alsmans as she was "not the right kind of a woman to have for a neighbor". She stated that the children were turned out on the streets when Mr. Tribbey visited there, and at one time Mrs. Alsmans said that she cared more for John Tribbey than she did for her own husband.

Ezekiel Jones, county sheriff, testified that the wound on Mrs. Alsmans's shoulder looked very much like a bullet wound on the morning after the shooting occurred.

On January 1 there was 58 per cent. more poultry held in cold storage than at the close of the year 1917.

Gen. Pershing Says Death Rate at Brest is Below Average.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Reports of bad conditions at Brest was denied by General Pershing in a message to the war department today. The total number of deaths at the Brest camp from November 1, 1917, to the first of this month was 1,311, declared Pershing. The sick rate at Brest for the last three months was lower than the sick rate for the entire expeditionary forces. Pershing's report stated: "Health conditions at Brest and general conditions of the camp and method of handling troops there have received high praise from all of the inspectors."

THE MOST DANGEROUS OF ALL DISEASES

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out!
Danger is in sight.

Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous,
weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness,
or have pains in the back, wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys
are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from
your system.

Get some GOLD MEDAL Hanlon
Oil Capsules at once. They are an old, sicians in their daily practice. GOLD ported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They are convenient to take,

400,000 YANKS ARE Y. W. C. A. VISITORS

Four hundred thousand persons and more served in the cafeteria in one year is the record of the Y. W. C. A.
Hostess House at Camp Lewis, American Lake, Wash.

The majority of the 400,000 diners
were mothers, wives, sweethearts and
friends who went to the camp to visit their soldiers. The remainder were soldiers themselves who broke the monotony of "chow" with home cooked meals. In addition to all these guests, 25,000 little children were cared for in the nursery and the rest room served 70,000 tired wives and mothers.

The workers at the information
desk received and answered 97,000
questions varying from how to get the best connections to a destination clear
across the continent, the rates of soldiers' insurance and the kind of cre-tione a girl bride should have in her living room now that Private John is coming home from France. Eleven thousand of these queries required telephone conversations with various company commanders relative to hunting up a soldier whose parents had arrived unexpectedly.

Y. W. C. A. CAFETERIA IN PORTO RICO

Porto Rico has a cafeteria. It is the first one established on the island, and when it was opened in the Y. W. C. A.
Hostess House at Camp Las Casas the
natives crowded around, much amused
at the innovation. They insisted upon having American dishes.

The house became very well known
in a short time, and a group of women
from San Juan volunteered to go out
every week to mend socks and sew on buttons for the soldiers.

RUSSIAN PRINCESSES LEARN TO TRIM HATS

Y. W. C. A. Saves Wife of General
From Becoming Charwoman.

When the war work of the Y. W. C.
A. in Russia has all been told one of the most interesting stories will lie in the establishment of the first Women's Co-operative Association at Moscow.

There day after day princesses work
side by side with peasant girls, wives
of high Russian officials make dresses
or trim hats at long tables with simple, unlettered women, and the money is used for self support of these princesses and notable women as well as for the peasant classes.

The need and suffering throughout
all Russia was so great at the time
the Association was established that it was a problem to find where the money would help the greatest number of people. It was thought best to expend it to help capitalize organizations for giving work and permanent opportunities to families and individuals to earn their own living.

The women bring their handwork to the Association for sale or take orders to do dressmaking, millinery, etc.,
in the rooms of the society or at home.
Suitable work was found just in time
not long ago to keep the wife of one of Russia's greatest generals from going out as a charwoman to earn bread for
her husband, who was ill.

Mending a Sagging Door.

It ruffled the tidy nature of the handy man to have to pull and jerk
at his door to open it, and then to have to coax and push to shut it. A door should fit in its frame, like a stopper in a bottle, he thought. A curious examination disclosed that it struck at the bottom. Of course, if the swelling had been at the top, it would have been so easy just to plane off
the surplus. But, at the bottom! He tried tightening the screws in the upper hinge, which were quite loose,
but found the wood so soft that even longer screws would not hold. There seemed to be nothing to do but remove the upper hinge, dig out the soft wood and insert in its place a piece of new wood, which held the hinge screws firmly and prevented
the door from sagging.

Maxims for Marksmen.

It is strange that the novice will almost invariably try to hit the bull's eye of a swinging target when it is at the center or in the lowest position.
This is decidedly the incorrect method. The expert knows that the time
to shoot is at the end of the swing.
In fact, anyone will arrive ultimately
at the same conclusion, for a little thought will convince him that a target is the more easily hit when at a standstill, or at the end of a vibration.

The moving target as a rule has the largest bull's eye, and is often one of
the easiest to strike, if you happen
to know how.

Simply aim at the point where the center of the target stops and wait till it returns. Then, bang!

SLIGHT HEMORRHAGE FOUND

Premier Clemenceau's Condition Reported Satisfactory, However.

(By United Press.)

Paris, Feb. 20.—The assassin's
bullet penetrated one of Premier Clemenceau's lungs, causing a slight hemorrhage, an official announcement said today. His condition,
however, was said to be satisfactory.

The statement said: "There was a slight hemorrhage of the lungs at one o'clock yesterday at noon owing to the bullet's penetration of the lung. The general condition was very satisfactory. His temperature was normal and the premier took a normal amount of food."

JAPS FULL OF SUPERSTITION

Have More Foolish Beliefs, According
to Traveler, Than Any Other People on the Earth.

"When I was a very young man I
was filled with superstitious ideas,"
said a "globe trotter." "They were
thoroughly dispelled from my mind,
however, after a visit to Japan. In that country there is a superstition
surrounding practically everything.
The Japanese housewife, for instance,
will never sweep out a room immediately after anyone has left it, for fear
of driving away the luck. At a Japanese marriage it is not considered
wise for either the bride or bridegroom to wear purple. It is held
that purple is a color likely to fade
and that the marriage will not be of long duration. Perhaps the strangest ideas are those which prevail with regard to finger nails.

"The Japanese believe that the cutting of finger nails before starting on
a journey will bring misfortune to
the traveler when he reaches his destination. The howling of a dog always causes considerable perturbation, for it signifies death. It is a serious matter for a woman to step over an eggshell. It is the belief of the country that if she does so she will go mad. There is a great fear of ghosts in Japan and many of the natives keep lights burning throughout
the night in the belief that the flame
will drive them away. One of the superstitions is put to practical use.
Japanese children are told that if they tell a lie an imp will pull out their tongues."

AN ULTIMATUM TO BAVARIA

Soldiers and Workmen Council Demands Army be Reorganized.

(By United Press.)

Austri, Feb. 20.—The soldiers and workmen council of Munich has issued an ultimatum to the Bavarian government, according to dispatches received here today, demanding their resignations or agreement to the following: dissolution of the cadet corps; reorganization of the Bavarian army.

The war minister refused to consider the proposals and resigned. A complete political upheaval is feared.

"I know of many instances," says
Charles M. Schwab, "where the process of retraining cripples has returned able men to their jobs and has not only saved the man for himself and his family, but increased the effectiveness of the plant in which he worked."

Reconstruction Legislation

Bill No. 306 introduced in the senate by Senators Strode and Van Aucken proposes to establish on a permanent basis the free employment service which has been maintained entirely at the expense of the federal government during the period of the war. This bill is one of the most interesting attempts for reconstruction legislation in the present General Assembly.

The bill provides for an employment commission of seven members, two representing employees, two representing employers, two members, one of whom shall be a woman, representing the disinterested public, and a seventh member who shall act as chairman and state director of the employment service. The chairman, who shall be chosen because of his peculiar fitness, training and experience, will be the only salaried member of the commission; the other members receiving traveling expenses only.

The bill authorizes the commission to enter into co-operative agreements with municipalities for the establishment of free employment offices in such cities in the state where in its opinion the maintenance of a free employment service will be expedient to public welfare.

One section of the service will be devoted entirely to securing suitable employment for crippled soldiers and sailors who have been trained or reeducated for some particular trade or vocation by the federal board for vocational education. This is in line with the policy adopted by many other states for co-operation with the federal board in making effective the rehabilitation act passed by congress at the beginning of the war.

Another section of the commission will have entire supervision over all matters pertaining to securing employment for minors who do not come within the purview of compul-

POINTS TO CONSIDER IN BUILDING HOSPITAL

(Contributed by a citizen of Rushville who has lived here for 24 years.)

Mothers, would you like to send your daughters to a training school for nurses in a place which is in the public eye and is accessible to everyone, or would you send her to the country where she will stay put and can't get away for a little recreation?

Do you think the life among sick folk is not depressing, and to get away for a little while and see someone else makes her better fit for work? Ever heard of a nurse or patient getting afraid at night?

sory education laws. It is estimated that about 75 percent of boys and girls in Indiana leave school before completing the 8th grade. One of the principal functions of the junior section will be to serve this large group of future citizens, in endeavoring first to enter day school, if possible if not, to avail themselves of extensive opportunities for improving their education by attending night schools, vocational schools, part-time schools, and trade schools. An effort will be made in all instances to find employment of a nature adapted to the temperament and ambition of each boy or girl.

The U. S. employment service financed by the federal government has maintained 13 offices in the different cities throughout the state during the war and it is planned, if this bill is passed, that the state of Indiana shall be responsible for the administration of these offices, shall select its personnel and that the federal government will bear half of the expense. The record of the employment service in Indiana throughout the war, has received much favorable comment from Washington, and the plan for joint distribution in shouldering the expense of a permanent service as outlined in the senate bill is in keeping with the future plans of the department officials at Washington.

When the price of butter and eggs goes down do you suppose that the cow and hen feel as if they were losing caste?

The o. f. winter and the o. f. blizzard must have eloped together. If they come rollicking home, hand in hand, shall we give them a joyous welcome or heave a brick at them?

Would it not be dreadful if in five years' time there were no one in the United States who could tell the difference between Bohemian beer and Bavarian beer and Beck beer?

Imagine a million and a half men abroad and each of them with the same two predominant thoughts in his mind:—

1. "When do we eat?"
2. "When do we get home?"

Many of our old salts (say 18 to 22 years old) are reaching home these days, hanging up their uniforms and their sea legs and their choice marine vocabularies, and getting ready to plow the fields instead of the raging main.

MATERIAL TO AID FRENCH REFUGEES

Activity of the American Red Cross Only Slightly Curtailed by Armistice.

FRANCE IS EUROPEAN BASE.

All Articles are Being Made into Wearing Material in Devastated Lands.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Evidence that the activity of the American Red Cross in France was only slightly curtailed by the cessation of hostilities came with the announcement from national headquarters that the war council has arranged for the immediate shipment to that country of textiles valued at $4,532,880 to meet the acute need for wearing apparel among the thousands of people who are making a brave effort to reestablish themselves in the recovered areas of Europe.

France is now the Red Cross supply base for Europe.

The action of the Red Cross will make available for those who are in need in many parts of Europe 13,500,000 yards of materials of the kind commonly used in the manufacture of refugee garments. The material, which will be fashioned into clothing by the people who are to receive it as in addition to the great quantities of refugee garments turned out in the Red Cross workrooms of this country and forwarded overseas. In that part of Europe laid waste by the Germans the scarcest article is material that might be made into wearing apparel.

The American Red Cross is planning to establish relief depots in the liberated territory at Lille, Amiens, Laon, Mezieres, Chalons and Verdun, the warehouses at these points being stocked with supplies to meet the emergency needs of returning civilian refugees. The territory has been divided into districts, and each district will be in charge of a Red Cross staff and a resident who knows the people of the district and has their confidence.

The World's Tractor

This one man single unit two wheeled Tractor weighs 1700 pounds and in ten hours will plow four acres. Disc twenty acres with a seven-foot tandem disc. Harrows forty-five to fifty acres with a 15-foot harrow. Plant twenty to twenty-five acres of corn, cultivate 20 acres with a two-row cultivator.

Harvest ten acres with a corn binder. Cut twenty acres of wheat with an eight-foot binder. Mow fifteen acres with five-foot mower rake or pull a hay loader; and in addition can be used for belt work not requiring to exceed ten to twelve horse power.

This Tractor has been in use for four years and is not an experiment. It is superior in every detail of construction.

When the Indiana Silo Company went into the Tractor business four years ago, they found the trouble with Tractors was that they were always laid up for repairs. They have solved that part; they have so constructed it so as to reduce repair bill to a minimum and is so simple any boy can operate.

Tractor will be in Rushville, Saturday, February 15th, and will be more than pleased to demonstrate it as soon as weather permits.

MUSIC RENDERED BY CHOIR

The Centenary Group meeting held at the Second Methodist Church, Monday and Tuesday was a great success. Dr. E. L. Gillum of Columbus was appointed by the Cincinnati Area to give instructions to the minute men. The subjects of Intercession, Stewardship and Life Service were ably presented.

Dr. Gillum delivered a splendid address on "Tithing" Monday night. Tuesday night he preached from the text, "Our Father." Large audiences attended each service. The ministers and delegates of each group were entertained royally by the ladies of the church. Music rendered by the choir was splendid and appropriate. The members of the group left this morning for their respective homes.

Among those present from out of town were the Rev. C. E. Alexander and A. Kimbro of Newcastle, Rev. Coleman of Shelbyville, Rev. J. Chim and Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery of Anderson, Rev. Wesley Singleton of Connorsville and Mrs. A. Austin of Shelbyville.

BILL PROPOSED FOR A PURCHASING AGENT

Provides For Agent to Supervise Buying of Supplies For Various State Institutions

WILL SAVE MANY DOLLARS

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—The unit buying system as employed by the allies during the war is as applicable to the state of Indiana as to the entente nations, according to advocates of the bill proposed Wednesday to provide for a purchasing agent for the state. Under the provisions of the bill the purchasing of supplies for the various state institutions would be done under the direction and supervision of a state purchasing agent. It is said that by thus pooling the general supplies needed at all institutions the state would save probably several hundred thousand dollars, annually.

Another bill provides for a similar system for the city of Indianapolis and would permit the hiring of an entire corps to conduct this work for the city.

You glad
That we Bought a
VOCALION
Dear?

That wonderful Tone Quality—I never dreamed that there could be anything so natural.

And to think—we can play all makes of records without changing the Reporducer!

Wasn't it amusing last night to see Mrs. Jones changing the Reprodusers on her Phonograph, when she wanted to change from one make of record to another?

No such crude affair for us John—our Vocalion plays them all—Victor, Columbia, Vocalion, Pathe, Edison and all other disc records; and notice how smooth our motor runs, and you don't hear that awful scratching noise either, do you?

Well, I am certainly glad that we decided on the Vocalion for that expression device—The Graduola—is marvelous, and the new Vocalion Records—did you ever hear such clear-sweet tones.

My advice to my friends is—don't buy a phonograph of any kind until you have gone down to Johnson's and heard and played the Vocalion.

You can play Vocalion records on any phonograph. If you haven't an attachment, we'll get you one. Come in and ask about it.

The rooms were prettily decorated with patriotic colors and the amusements for the evening were games and music. Those present were the Misses Myrtle and Bertha Wilson, Ruth Mohler, Nora Jackson, Lorene Robertson, Pauline Wright, Edith Osborne, Rena Rout, Celia Comely, Mary Levi, Kathleen Joyce, Alta Enos, Cecil Downey, Nora Ball and Gladys Goodbar; Donald Blevins, Percy Stamm, Clarence Hood, Norman Kline, Harry Powers, E. The recital given at the home of Mrs. Norma Smith Hogsett by her pupils, Miss Lillian Priest, pianist, assisted by Miss Sylvia Walters, soprano, last evening, proved to be a very enjoyable entertainment for the guests present. The program opened with a piano solo by Miss Priest and was followed by a vocal solo "Sunset" by Miss Walters. Miss Priest then played a series of instrumental selections as follows: (a) Polish Dance, by Scharwenka; (b) Minuet, by Paderewski; (c) Tarantella by Piezonka. "An Open Secret" was next rendered by Miss Walters and the last selection on the program was "Scenes From an Imaginary Ballet" by Coleridge-Taylor, which was played by Miss Priest. The hostess served dainty refreshments.

Carmel Myers at Mystic

William Harcourt had millions just around the corner and bankruptcy just one jump behind. Harcourt had a friend, Dick Thayer, in love with Elizabeth Lane. Harcourt wife Maude, determined to co-operate with Cupid. She invited Elizabeth for dinner, Dick's cue being to appear by accident, keep Elizabeth away from her other suitors for the evening and win her hand.

A millionaire Westerner, upon whom Harcourt depended to furnish capital for a new venture, wired he was on the way to the Harcourt home. Then Harcourt's servants were summarily dismissed when they mildly suggested payment of their services would not be amiss. Harcourt's fertile brain found a way out of the difficulty. He and his wife would act as servants, and the lovers, Dick and Elizabeth, would pose as the Harcourts. Bradford, the millionaire, never had seen Harcourt, so all Dick had to do was make a good impression on Bradford and the million was at Harcourt's disposal.

How did it all end? You can only find out by seeing "All Night," Carmel Myers' latest Bluebird picture, which will be shown at the Mystic theatre tonight. Tomorrow Dorothy Phillips in "The Mortgaged Wife."

Dorothy Gish Here Tonight

Dorothy Gish, whose first Paramount starring vehicle, "Battling Jane," will be shown at the Princess theatre tonight, is the most talked of picture personality in the United States today. Her work as "The Little Disturber" in "Hearts of the World" has drawn for her hundreds of columns of notices, not one of which was unfavorable, and has made it impossible for her to handle her mail without the aid of a secretary.

But twenty-one years of age, Miss Dorothy has been in motion pictures for seven years, beginning with the old Biograph in the days when David W. Griffith was the director-in-chief. She has never left Mr. Griffith up until the present picture, except for two or three small productions under his supervisory direction before he began the work of bigger features.

The personality of the "The Little Disturber" is to be brought into this series, which is an entirely new form of comedy-drama. Miss Gish will not enter into the usual comedy field. She insists on a story as well as her personality, and does not believe that any star should allow herself to be shown with a story that is not worth her best effort. She is splendidly supported.

Alma Gluck at Murat.

Alma Gluck, America's unrivalled soprano will be heard in Indianapolis on Sunday afternoon, March 2, at the Murat Theatre, under the direction of Ona B. Talbot Fine Arts Association, this being the third of the series of Sunday afternoon concerts arranged by the association. The concerts are meeting with the greatest enthusiasm and patronage from all concertgoers throughout the state.

Wherever the city, the announcement of a Gluck recital is a joyous summons that fills the largest halls, with stage seats and standees, too. No one can resist the charm which radiates from Alma Gluck's singularly vital beauty and the appeal of her singing voice. Although a native of Roumania Mme. Gluck was brought to America while still a child and educated in New York, and so she is essentially American. Her early life was by no means a path of roses. What she has accomplished is the result of long, hard study supported by a firm courage. Her first opportunity came when a call was issued from the Metropolitan Opera House for a young soprano to create the role of Sophie in Massenet's "Werther", unheralded and unknown she presented herself, and in competition with a score of other ambitious singers she was immediately selected for the part. That was in 1909 and her debut was an emphatic success.

In 1913 Mme. Marcella Sembrich,

who had become intensely interested in the young American soprano, offered her the privilege of eight months' study and coaching in her own home in Switzerland. This close association with the world's acknowledged mistress of song was of untold value to the ripening artist and in her meteoric rise the influence of the great Sembrich has been a strong factor. This will be the first opportunity the Indianapolis and Indiana admirers of Mme. Gluck will have of hearing this great artist, and the demand for seats is very heavy.

Probably three-fourths of all the floating derelicts recovered are repaired and put back into use.

The Reason Why

We Can Guarantee

If a machine is to be guaranteed for five years it must be built so it won't break down. Every part must be as strong as the rest—no weak points. Something besides "bullstrength and awkwardness" has been brought to bear in the production of the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader. The theory in developing this spreader has been to remove the unnecessary strain throughout the entire machine, so that the natural strength and staying qualities of good material and good workmanship, could develop the greatest possible strength and durability.

It was on this theory that the BULL DOG beater wheel and the NO-CHOKE Box were conceived and embodied as a part of this machine. These two features reduced the strain and heavy wear on the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL so that at least 30% of the usual strain on other spreaders is absolutely cut out by these inventions.

The SELF-OILING journal bearings, the Litchfield style of a single lever which starts, stops and regulates all parts of the machine, and the general simplicity cuts down the possibility for trouble and breakage to such an extent that the machine is practically "Fool Proof."

The front construction which the circle front and the Litchfield Style of bracing from the front axle to the cross bar under the machine, the ENDLESS conveyor with the SELF-CLEANING hinged sections, the self-aligning beater wheel bearings, the riveted teeth in the cylinder bars, the cross trussed and re-inforced frame, the steel hub wheel and other special features found only on the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader, all combined give the great strength, durability and long life which enables the Litchfield Mfg. Co. to give every purchaser of a standard spreader a written contract guaranteeing it for five years.

All possible cause for trouble, breakage, and accident are studiously removed and overcome. This statement is strong and so is the machine. The Company is behind it and so am I.

SONGS OF SPARROWS INDICATE THAT SPRING IS COMING EARLY

By Bert Moses

The stirring strains of a song sparrow lured me to the woods this morning. I went out the C. I. & W. tracks to the water tank, and then up the river bottoms to the Green cottage, returning along the race. On the way to the water tank I saw and heard four song sparrows, where the track crosses the race. Going up the river I counted eighteen more song sparrows, all in full song. I also took a census of the chickadees, being fortunate enough to find fourteen, as well as five cardinals, three of which celebrated the day by singing only as a redbird knows how. On the trip I saw three hairy woodpeckers, one brown creeper and one white-breasted nuthatch, the latter being the only one of the kind I have noticed all winter. One single bluejay was found, and one noisy kingfisher flew overhead bearing a small fish. Besides I noted a Cooper's hawk and a single Northern shrike. The latter was in full pursuit of a terrorized chickadee, but the game little fellow darted into the bushes and got away.

The past winter I have made this trip many times, but was never so fortunate in finding as many birds as I did today. The river bottoms from the water tank to the dam are a favorite rendezvous of the feathered creatures. Near the Green cottage a colony of cardinals have put in the winter. I have seen as many as eight in the flock. Associating with the chickadees is a bird about the size of a song sparrow, and it has a crested head. This I am unable to identify. It has some of the chickadee's habits, being able to cling to the sides of limbs, but is not such an all-round athlete and circus performer as the inimitable chickadee himself. Perhaps some reader of the Republican knows its name.

The winter being so mild, the winter birds came to town looking for food very seldom. However, there are two pairs of cardinals that have stayed right here in the city all winter, and they seem to have visited everybody in town. Also a flock of about fifteen purple grackles remained here until about two weeks ago, when they disappeared. They frequented the large apple tree on the south side of Lon Link's house on Perkins street. One had an injured wing, and is with us yet. He daily seeks food in W. E. Wallace's garden, having as associates a million English sparrows, more or less. A hairy woodpecker has come daily all winter to my window for a meal of suet, which I have supplied him on the end of a stick.

I guess, from the way the song

sparrows sang this morning, that spring is coming early. Anyhow, I never heard so loud a chorus so early in the season before. These song sparrows were particularly tame, permitting me to come very close to listen to their fine concert. The cardinals, however, were quite wild, and I imagine the boys have been after them with airguns.

Along in January I saw a lone robin up a long the mill race, being probably one of those occasional individuals that was asleep at the switch when its kind went South, and so decide to remain here alone rather than make the long journey south by itself.

I am keeping a sharp lookout for the early robins and bluebirds. They will be here soon, I am sure.

TAKING ADVANTAGE OF EXCELLENT WEATHER

High Priced Clover Seed is Being Sown While Ground is in the Right Condition.

HIGHEST PRICES IN YEARS

Farmers of this county are taking advantage of the fine weather, and condition of the ground to sow the most precious seed that they will sow this year. Clover seed is selling for much the highest price that has been known for years. However, there seems to be plenty of seed. Local dealers report that seed is selling in the neighborhood of twenty-eight dollars a bushel and in some instances it has been known to sell higher than that price. This cost is not considered high by the economical farmer however, as ten and twelve acres can be sown from one bushel of seed.

This is the best opportunity for sowing the seed that has been offered by the weather conditions in years. The fields lie in cracks, left by the long dry weather. Over the tons of the ridges where the corn was planted are little fissures where the seed will be covered when rains come if planted at this time. It is the report of close observing farmers that the seed which does not get into a crack and is not covered rarely lives, but sprouts and soon dies. Therefore, before the little cracks made in the ground by the frost are closed over by the rains, is the golden opportunity for clover sowing.

TOO MANY DESIRE CLERICAL WORK
Thousands Who Desire Work of That Character are a Drug on the Market at Present.
SKILLED MEN ARE NEEDED
Labor Department Having no Difficulty in Finding Employment for Skilled Workers.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Thousands who desire clerical occupations are an economic drug on the market. The placement division of the United States department of labor recently announced that it had no difficulty whatsoever in finding places for all men who had skilled trades, but that the majority of applicants for placement were young men who desired clerical and semi-clerical positions, which are the least paid of all the occupations listed.

A number of newspapers commented upon the fact that young men discharged from the army and especially country boys, do not want to go back to the unskilled labor and subsequent small compensation on the farms, and they in great numbers are joining the ranks of thousands who desire to become office men, work behind counters and the like.

Realizing this surplus, the federal board for vocational education in retaining disabled men endeavors in every instance where possible, to induce the men to take up one of the skilled trades for which he may be fitted, even though he has suffered impairments. By giving him a specialized education and training often in shops, works or factories, and supporting him with an allowance of $65 per month, while undergoing training, the board realizes that it is making his industrial future secure, and when in future those who have been injured as he has, but who have no skilled knowledge are probably being supported by their relatives or occupying homes for disabled soldiers, or peddling pencils on the streets in the years to come, the man he has taken the retraining course will be an expert in his line, drawing the high wages obtained by such men. The status of the man retrained as a skilled worker is secure. He is a respected and contented member of society, asking no favors and not weighted down with the feeling of inferiority and dependence inevitable to those who are not able to make their way upon their merits. The federal board for vocational education at Washington is anxious to get in touch with every disabled man who desires to better his condition.

Buckboards, boats, horses, selds and snowshoes are actually in use by Red Cross Home Service to reach every soldier's family reported in need.

Division is Composed of the 16th, 18th, and 28th Regiments of Infantry.

FIRST DIVISION IN FRANCE

Final Report of Casualties Suffered Shows a Total of 715 Officers and 23,259 Men.

By WEBB MILLER.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the American Third Army on the Rhine, Feb. 2. (By Mail)—When "the boys get back" and the folks at home begin to hear the real story of the war from the lips of the fighting men, there is going to be a lot of talk about the—the division or the—the division and the fighting qualities thereof. Then about 30,000 men are going to be proud to say they belong to the First Division.

Owing to the censorship and the rush and stress during the fighting, little has been heard of the accomplishments of the various divisions except in brief official announcements. Herewith is a brief resume of the activities of the destined-to-be famous First Division.

The division is composed of the Sixteenth, Eighteenth, Twenty-sixth and Twenty-eighth regiments of infantry—organizations with histories dating back to Revolutionary war days. At the outbreak of war these regiments were stationed along the Mexican border. Under the reorganization plans the original outfits were split up and the skeleton organizations filled up with new men from every part of the United States.

After a 2,000-mile journey half way across the continent, the First embarked for "a French port" at 2 a. m., June 10, 1917. The grueling training was continued even on board ship. Upon landing at St. Nazaire—the first division to set foot upon French soil—the troops were hurried across France to training areas. Four companies of the Sixteenth were diverted and marched through Paris on July 4. Then followed weeks of stiff training in the Gondrecourt area under the tutelage of the 47th French chasseurs. Then the unforgettable entry into the trenches in the Somerville sector. For 10 days the 1st changed places by battalions with French troops and got its first close-up glimpse of the Hun. It was a battery of the First that fired the historic "first shot of the war." On Jan. 15 the division was considered to have graduated, and was entrusted with the Toul Sector, which the old-timers considered a "rest area," but was enlivened with trench raids and frequent artillerying. The next tour of duty in the trenches began late in April in the Cantigny sector, which was considerably more active. For some time the Germans threw over an average of 20,000 shells per day upon a narrow front, with the American replying with a will.

On May 28 the Twenty-eighth infantry smashed over the first real American attack, capturing the village of Cantigny, and dealing the boche a stiff blow.

On one of those breathless days in July when the fate of civilization was hanging in the balance, came the orders to move. In the evening endless lines of motor trucks roared into the rest area and the troops were jammed aboard. Throughout the night the columns of trucks hurried along the roads toward the front. At dawn the division detrucked in a forest about 12½ miles behind the trenches, and camped during the day hidden from the prying eyes of German flyers.

The march was resumed at night fall. Through three lines of hurrying traffic the First pushed on rapidly and camped again in a wood, only a few miles behind the lines. At dusk the last lap of the march began.

At 4:35 a. m. on July 18 the barrage lifted, and the First went forward in what was probably the most decisive battle in history. In some of the bloodiest fighting of the war, this division drove ahead from eight to 10 miles within five days against almost superhuman resistance, and captured the heights southwest of Soissons.

In the five days there was not a single minute of pause in the terrible fighting. Five separate attacks were made and a dozen counterattacks repulsed. So heavy was the fighting that at times battalions were commanded by lieutenants and sergeants—all other officers were casualties.

The number of prisoners and guns captured in the face of such resistances showed the character of the fighting—3375 men and 125 officers were sent through the cages, and the material captured included 150 field guns 300 machineguns and great quantities of other material.

Then followed several weeks of rest and training of replacements while the wounds of the division were bound up. Meanwhile General Pershing was bringing to a close the plans for the battle of St. Mihiel.

Early in September the First was moved stealthily into the lines near Beaumont. On the morning of September 12 the division "went after them" again and helped wipe the St. Mihiel salient off the map. The division bagged 1190 prisoners, a quantity of guns, ammunition, and three locomotives.

With another short rest the First was again on the way to another great battle. In conjunction with the French, General Pershing, was laying plans for the battle of the Argonne, which was aimed to cut the vital artery between the northern and southern German army groups.

The attack was launched eastward of the Argonne, October 4. The First "went over" in the Chepy sector near Varennes in the face of desperate resistance.

Before its withdrawal to rest

Asserts Rheumatic Impurities Can't Stay in Body

When My Prescription Goes in, Rheumatism Goes Out Along With All Poisonous Uric Acid, Says Discoverer. James H. Allen

Because he was crippled with terrible rheumatism and unable to work, and because doctors failed to help him, Mr. James H. Allen of Rochester decided to help himself.

Persistent study, ceaseless patience and frequent experiments convinced him that before anyone could be free from rheumatism the poisons and impurities often called uric acid deposits, must be dissolved in the joints, ligaments and muscles and expelled from the system.

It took some years to get this idea into the form of a prescription, but perseverance finally conquered and in a very short period every pain and twinge and trace of rheumatism was forced to flee and Mr. Allen turned himself from a rheumatic wreck into a strong, healthy, robust man.

So pleased was he with his success that he named this wonderful medicine Allenrhu. Many others cursed with the agony of rheumatism tried it with results that were almost magical.

Requests for Allenrhu became so numerous that a decision was reached to let sufferers know of the discovery through the newspapers and now druggists throughout the country dispense the Allenrhu prescription or can get it for you on short notice.—(Adv.)

camp, the First captured 1378 men and 38 officers.

The First division was hurried up to the lines again and attacked toward Monzon on November 6. That night the division was assembled and advanced in five columns toward Sedan. But owing to several French and American units converging upon the same objective—Sedan—the First was ordered back at 2 p. m. Nov. 7.

In a few days the division was on the march again—the "big hike" to the No-Man's-Land near Abaucourt and advanced toward German soil, marching steadily through Lorraine and Luxemburg, and reaching the German frontier on the Moselle in nine days of hard marching. After 12 days more of marching over muddy roads in cold rains the First reached the Rhine and crossed at dawn of the 13th at Coblenz. By 4 p. m. the next day the First reached its goal—the farthest point of the bridgehead—and settled down in occupation of one-third of the bridgehead area after a march of about 216 miles.

According to final reports of casualties completed after reaching the bridgehead, the First division lost as follows:

	Officers	Men
Killed.....	167	2991
Wounded.....	417	12,546
Gassed.....	101	4147
Captured and missing.....	30	3575
	715	23,259

A GREAT CHANGE ENTERS INTO LIFE OF STOREKEEPER

A certain unassuming gentleman in this city who happens to be a prominent merchant and who up to a few weeks ago had become a recluse because of his physical condition tells this remarkable and most interesting tale:

"For a number of years," he said, "I have been so closely confined to my store working zealously to make my store representative in every respect that wear and tear finally got me, my face became drawn and haggard and my disposition seemed to urge people to evade me. It was then that I began to despise my own company."

My bookkeeper one day suggested that I needed a rest and that my nerves required attention. She told me that her father had taken Phosphated Iron when in my condition. "Look at him now," she said. "He works ten hours a day and is the happiest man in the world."

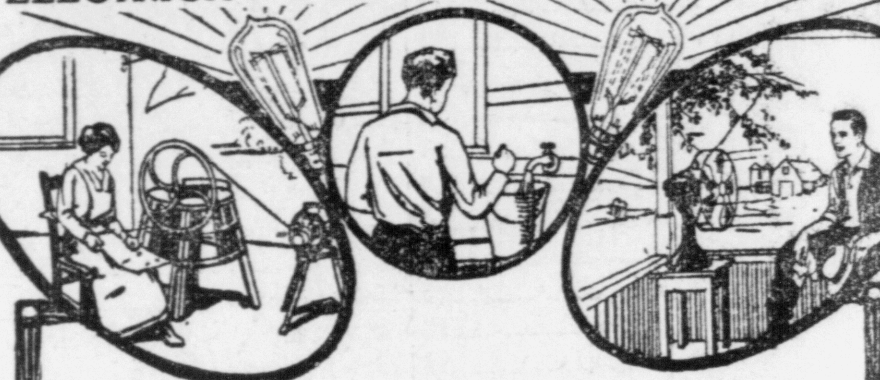

"All this happened less than a month ago. I followed the advice and look at me now. Back in the harness with a smile all the while. I am feeling more fit than ever. When I see a tired looking face the name of Phosphated Iron immediately comes in my mind. I am convinced that it is converting many a worn out body into a life rich in thought, ambition and enthusiasm."

Special Notice: To insure doctors and their patients getting the Genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to sell you pills or tablets.

TESTIFIES ALSMAN SHOT AT HIS WIFE

John Wolters, Employed to "Shadow" Blanch Alsmann, Tells of Shooting Dec. 26.

JOHN TRIBBEY IS ON TRIAL

Says He Saw Mrs. Alsmann Get in Tribbey's Buggy—Neighbors on Witness Stand.

The fact that Tom Alsmann, 424 East Eighth street, shot at his wife and John B. Tribbey of Posey township while they were riding in a buggy northeast of Rushville the night of December 26, was divulged in testimony given in the circuit court today in the case of the state against Tribbey, who is accused of a serious offense in an indictment returned by the grand jury last term of court.

The case went to the jury about three o'clock this afternoon after the introduction of evidence by the state and the arguments by the attorneys representing both sides. The defense presented no testimony. Tribbey himself refusing to go on the witness stand.

Tribbey gained considerable notoriety here several years ago when he was the prosecuting witness in the justly famous "whit-tapping" cases, it having been alleged that a number of his neighbors in Posey township assaulted him one night.

The hearing on the charge against Tribbey began shortly before eleven o'clock after most of the morning had been devoted to empaneling a jury and presenting the opening statements of the state of defense. At the same time the indictment was returned against Tribbey, the grand jury also indicted Mrs. Blanch Alsmann, wife of Tom Alsmann, whose case is pending. Motions in both cases to quash the indictments, were overruled by Judge Sparks recently.

John Wolters, former city policeman, the first witness for the state, testified to seeing Alsmann shoot at his wife and Tribbey. He told the jury he had been employed by Alsmann to "shadow" his wife and Tribbey and that on the night in which the alleged shooting took place, he saw Mrs. Alsmann get in a buggy with Tribbey at the corner of Seventh and Spencer streets.

Wolters testified that Alsmann was also watching his wife, but that they were not together. Tribbey and Mrs. Alsmann drove north in Spencer street towards the country. Wolters stated. The horse was driven into a run, he said, and Alsmann close behind. When the horse began to run, Alsmann fired, according to the testimony.

At the time of the alleged shooting, there were rumors that Mrs. Alsmann had been shot by a "spout" bullet and that only a slight flesh wound in the shoulder was inflicted. No arrests were ever made, with the result that none of the facts ever became public.

Mrs. Tillie Mabry, colored, who lives across the street from the Alsmann home, and was second witness for the state, testified that she knew both Tribbey and Mrs. Alsmann and that she had seen Tribbey enter the Alsmann home frequently. She estimated that, as far as her knowledge of the case went, that Tribbey had gone to Alsmann's house on an average of once a week, for the last two years.

Mrs. Mabry stated that he entered as if it were his own home, and that he remained "for hours." She said that Tribbey generally went in at the side door, and that of Mrs. Alsmann's children were not out in the yard playing, they soon came out of the house after Tribbey entered.

John Ferguson, colored, who lives on the same side of the street as Alsmann's, about a half a block west, testified that he had also seen Tribbey.

FORCES STILL CARRY HUN IMPERIAL FLAG

German Junkers Try to Organize Strong Movement in Germany Against Poland.

PRES. WILSON IS CRITICIZED

(By United Press.)

Warsaw, Feb. 20.—German forces in eastern Russia are still bearing the old imperial flag, according to reports brought by fugitives to the American mission here. They also say that the junkers have undertaken to organize a strong movement in Germany against Poland.

Poland's financial situation, according to members of the mission, will necessitate sending a high financial expert there.

France may ask Poland to assume a portion of Russia's indebtedness in considering the large sums that Russia spent on Polish railways. President Wilson is being made the object of unfavorable reports circulated throughout Poland.

WELCOMES BRIDEGROOM

Senate Interrupts Law Making to Receive L. W. Duffey and Bride

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—The senate interrupted its lawmaking yesterday afternoon to give an enthusiastic welcome to Senator Luke W. Duffey of Indianapolis and his bride who was Miss Mary Amos of Rushville. The marriage took place Tuesday. Senator Duffey arrived in time to cast the deciding vote on the Marion county judges' salary bill, giving it a constitutional majority of 26.

SLIM CHANCE FOR MOVIES ON SUNDAY

LACKS ONE VOTE OF PASSING

Measure Will be Called up For Another Test Because Largest Vote Favored Passage.

Prospects of moving pictures shows on Sunday being legalized by the state legislature, seemed slight today after the action of the senate last night in failing to give the Sunday movie bill a constitutional majority. The final vote was 25 to 22, lacking only one vote of being passed.

The fact that the larger vote was in favor of passage permits the bill to be called again for consideration, and Senator McCray, its author, said that he would call it up for a second vote at the first opportunity.

A recess of ten minutes was ordered at 5 o'clock, during the suspended roll call, to have doorkeepers search for Senator Ratts an absentee. These officials reported that the senator could not be found. The vote was declared closed.

Although an attempt was made by a motion of Senator Bracken to excuse the absentees from voting, a counter motion to table Senator Bracken's proposal made by Senator English was adopted. Senator Bracken then moved to adjourn, but Lieutenant Governor Bush declared with emphasis that he would entertain no motion to adjourn at that time.

The motion picture measure was called up for third reading by Senator Edward B. James of Dana, an opponent. He yielded the floor at once to Senator McCray, author of the bill, who began the fight for passage.

To make absolutely certain that there was no misunderstanding of the provisions of the bill the senator read twice slowly and carefully Sec. 1 of the measure, in which is contained the clause legalizing Sunday motion picture performances. The clause reads as follows:

"Provided further, That nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the operation of motion picture exhibitions of a historical, moral, educational or amusing nature, in any city or town after the hour of 1:30 p. m., on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday, provided the same shall be authorized by the Common Council or town board of such city or town."

The bill is an amendment to Sec. 467 of the criminal code pertaining to Sunday violations, approved in 1905 and amended in 1909.

NOT WARRANTED BY FACTS

Conditions in Northern Russia Exaggerated, Commander Cables.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 20.—The allied command is capable of taking care of charges against the whole Bolshevik army in northern Russia, Col. George Stewart, American commander, today cabled the war department. "The alarming reports of conditions in northern Russia are not warranted by the facts," he said. "Troops have been well taken care of in every way and my office resents the exaggerated report."

Health of the command is excellent, he said, and sick and wounded were well taken care of.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Motion for a new trial and for a stay of sentence were made before Federal Judge Landis here today in the case of Victor Berger, socialist congressman, and four other socialist leaders.

HIGHWAY BILL TO PASS IN THE HOUSE

Measure Creating State Commission Scheduled to be Adopted Late This Afternoon.

MAJORITY BOUND BY CAUCUS.

Changes Include Amendment for Counties to Receive Auto License Fees up to $800,000.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—The state highway commission bill, changed in many important respects, was to be passed by the house of representatives this afternoon under suspension of the rules. The tax bill was also to be put through if possible. The committee, directed by the republican caucus which amended the highway commission bill, was ready to report to the house, and the caucus had agreed that the bill would receive the full support of the majority.

The important changes are: counties to receive $800,000 auto license fees and all in excess of that estimated amount to be given to the state highway fund; bids must be received on three different kinds of materials: the tax levy increased to 15 mills; salaries of all employees to be fixed by the commission.

The Demaree bill, providing for establishment of a state police force, was defeated in the house when a committee report recommending indefinite postponement, was adopted without discussion. The house passed the Miltenberger bill increasing the pay of electing officers to $3 a day. The southern bill allowing the state to sell swamp land in order to raise money to drain other swamp land, was also passed by the house.

The effort to unseat Senator Joseph Cravens, Madison, a democrat, was defeated when Senator Doherty, chairman of the election committee of the upper house, reported that there was insufficient evidence to bring against Cravens.

Senator Negley introduced a joint resolution providing for appointment of a state hygiene commission of six members. The expense of the commission shall be paid out of the governor's contingent fund.

The Symons bill providing for increase in the salaries of judges of circuit and supreme courts, failed to pass the house for lack of a constitutional majority.

DENIES CHARGE MADE BY GOVERNOR ALLEN

Commander of 35th Division Says Men Were Not Mishandled in Battle of the Argonne.

SHORTAGE OF FOOD, HE SAYS.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 20.—Charges that the 35th division was mishandled and not properly taken care of in the battle of the Argonne are not well founded, Major General Traub, the division's commander, told the house rules committee today.

Questioned concerning the charges of Governor Allen, of Kansas, he said: "The conditions were unavoidable under condition of battle. Everything possible was done for the wounded." Traub maintained the forces had something to eat although there was a shortage of food.

"I lived on bread, jam and cigarettes for five days myself and the men in general had all they wanted to eat under war conditions," Traub declared. "We did in three hours what France had been doing in three years."

Tobacco seeds are so minute that a thimbleful will furnish enough plants for an acre of ground.

STORMS DELAY TRANSPORTS

Eighteen Troop Ships Overdue are Weathering Gale.

(By United Press.)

New York, Feb. 20.—Severe storms sweeping the Atlantic have delayed the arrival here of 18 transports carrying nearly 20,000 men. Wireless reports today stated that all the ships were weathering the gale but that many would be several days overdue. Some have been forced to run to Bermuda for coal and repairs, the message said.

PRESIDENT MAY BE DELAYED BY STORM

George Washington May Not Reach Boston Before Tuesday Because Heavy Gale at Sea.

SENDS WIRE TO CLEMENCEAU

(By United Press.)

Boston, Feb. 20.—The transport, George Washington, is expected to arrive in Boston Monday, according to a wireless message today to Admiral Wood, of the first naval district. The information came from one of the vessels conveying the president's ship. The George Washington will bring the troops aboard to Hoboken for landing after leaving the president at Boston.

Aboard the United States Steamship, George Washington, Feb. 20. While planning to reach Boston Monday, President Wilson may be delayed until Tuesday by a gale which sprang up Wednesday afternoon. The strong wind was accompanied by a driving rain.

The president has not decided whether he will address a joint session of congress on the league of nations, but it is believed that he will do so. He sent the following to the American mission at Paris:

"Please convey to Premier Clemenceau my heart-felt sympathy and my joy at his escape. I sincerely hope that the report that he was only injured slightly is altogether true. I was deeply shocked by the news of the attack."

TO PUT AN END TO THE CHURCH SOCIAL

Centenary Movement Aim is to do Away With Financing Methods Used Decades.

4 WEEKS TITHERS CAMPAIGN.

H. A. Truesdale of Cnneaut, O., Leader of Stewardship Drive, will be Here Sunday.

The ice cream social and oyster supper method of church financing in the Methodist Episcopal church, for many decades the more or less unfailing resource when the pastor's salary was in arrears or the benevolences were short, is to give way to system, if the Centenary movement is successful in its aims, says an announcement by Centenary leaders.

St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church of this city is joining for the next four weeks with other churches of the denomination throughout the country in the greatest campaign for tithers ever undertaken by a great Protestant church. The goal is "a million tithers in Methodism," one member out of every five, who will agree to devote at least one-tenth of his income to religious work.

To the Cincinnati Area (Ohio, Kentucky and Southern Indiana) 125,000 of these are appointed. In this territory the "Stewardship Drive", as this part of the Centenary program is called, is under the leadership of H. A. Truesdale of Cnneaut, Ohio. He has organized committees at work in each local church in the entire Area. Mr. Truesdale has locked the door on his own business interests for six months in order that all of his time may be given to this phase of the Centenary program. The Rev. Clyde S. Black has secured Mr. Truesdale for the local church for Sunday morning, February 23. He has a wonderful message, it is stated.

"The old days when the church fair, oyster supper and the ice cream social were the trusted cornerstones of the church finance, are passing away," says "Missiles" organ of the Methodist Minute Men.

"The tithe would remove 90 per cent of the fire from the churches. A survey of the last four years, covering nearly one hundred churches, reveals the astonishing evidence that most of the church quarrels sprang from poor finances. Tithing would have reduced the occasions for trouble to a minimum.

HAVE NO NEWS OF SON BEING WOUNDED

Mr. and Mrs. George Inlow Know Nothing About Private Donald Inlow, Reported as Casual.

IS NOW AT CAMP SHERMAN, O.

Mr. and Mrs. George Inlow of Manilla have no knowledge of their son, Private Donald Inlow, being wounded while in the service in France. His name appears in today's casualty list issued by the war department at Washington, as having been wounded slightly, but Mr. and Mrs. Inlow have never received any word directly from the government or from their son himself that he was wounded.

Private Inlow is now at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, having arrived from overseas a few weeks ago. He was among the first Rush county men to enter the service and was in France several months.

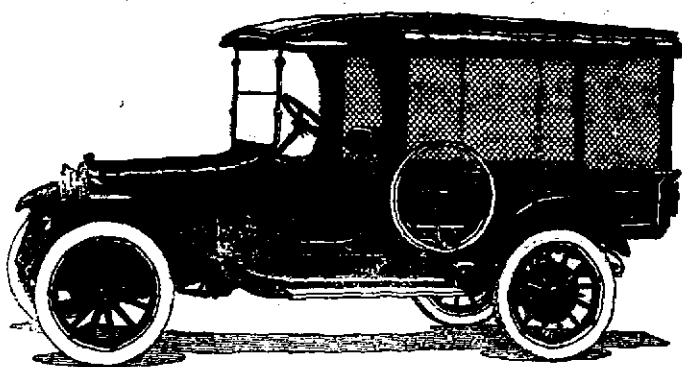

It is believed that Private Inlow's wounds were very slight, else the government would have notified his parents and he himself would have written them. Private Inlow is a nephew of Will Inlow of this city.

EXTRA LONG WEAR FROM SHOES

T. D. Collins of Ocala, Hawaii, makes a remarkable statement which demonstrates the money-saving durability of Neolin Soles.

He writes: "After wearing a pair of Neolin-soled shoes off and on for thirty-three months, I wore them on a trip to the volcano of Kilauea and walked around the crater over hot lava six times and still the soles showed only slight signs of wear."

This experience is not accidental. It results from the scientific process by which Neolin Soles are made to be exactly what soles should be—comfortable, waterproof and exceedingly economical because of the long wear they give.

Get them on new shoes for all members of the family and have them put on worn shoes. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

UNCLE SAM DEALS WITH TAXDODGERS

New Revenue Bill Provides the Severest Penalties for Those Who Evade Paying Taxes

ROPER MAKES STATEMENT.

Taxdodger will be Punished to the Full Extent of Civil and Criminal Laws.

How does Uncle Sam deal with taxdodgers? This inquiry, which was prompted by the severe penalties provided in the new revenue bill, has brought from Commissioner D. C. Roper a frank statement as to the internal revenue bureau's attitude toward those who attempt to evade taxation.

"Any person who deliberately conceals tax liability, or who falsifies a return in order to reduce or evade any internal revenue, or who deliberately abets such concealment or fraud, finds arrayed against him the entire strength of this Bureau pressing for full civil and criminal penalties. That is the attitude toward the tax-dodger, expressed in one sentence. Whether he is a moonshiner, a stealthy trafficker in habit-forming drugs, or juggles of income figures, a delinquent in making the sworn return the law requires, or a revenue violator of an other kind, the bureau is charged with the duty of hunting him out and exacting the full punishment provided in the law.

"Toward the taxpayer who means to comply with the internal revenue laws, fully and honestly, the bureau extends a helping hand. Cooperation with the taxpayer is out watchword and objective.

"These two contrasts—the teeth of the law for the tax-dodger and violator, and the aid of every lawful agency for the voluntary taxpayer—are policies necessary to the administration of tax laws under modern conditions.

"One of the most difficult of the many problems in tax collecting is to classify those who fail to fulfill the obligations imposed by law. The Bureau is obliged to maintain a large staff and to use the utmost discretion in properly labeling these cases. Even-handed justice is a heavy responsibility and only through careful siftings can delinquents be classified.

"There are three distinct classes of delinquency with which we have to do: First, the taxpayer who had reasonable cause, brought about by exceptional conditions beyond his control; secondly, the fellow who didn't look up or didn't realize his obligations; and thirdly, the person who willfully evaded compliance with the law.

"As for the man who shows a reasonable cause within certain lines established by the bureau, no penalties are asserted. All other delinquents are more carefully investigated before prosecution is begun. Many of these offenses are caused by ignorance and negligence. Failure to make the reports required by law may in some cases warrant severe penalty for failure to make return. However, if the delinquent takes immediate corrective action, and it is clearly established through investigation that he did not willfully violate the law, the Bureau allows him to compromise his liability to specific penalty by tendering a nominal sum of money. In such instances the money is not really in compromise but assessed to impress the taxpayer against future violations.

"But there is no relief, no compromise, for the man who willfully promises, for the man who willfully falsifies. He is classed with other law-breakers in the eyes of the Bureau, and is vigorously prosecuted in the courts. No other course is open to the Bureau, in meeting fairly and squarely the demand of the willing taxpayer. 'I will—the other man must.' There is a solemn responsibility thus existing between the honest taxpayer and the Bureau to locate and punish the dishonest tax-dodger.

bey enter Alsmann's home many times. One one occasion, he said, Tribbey went into the house from the rear. He declared he had observed that the Alsmann children were not at home when Tribbey was there. Ferguson said that Tribbey went into the house boldly. He was the last witness for the state before the noon adjournment of court.

The jury hearing the case is composed of the following men: John A. Jones, John L. Clark, Edgar Noble, Albert J. Reddick, A. L. Chew, Rufus Rhodes, Charles Leisure, Clem Bowen, J. E. Farthing, Harold Wolcott, Bert Osborne, Charles French.

Mrs. William Hoarde testified that she lived next door to the Alsmanns for a period of six years and had seen Tribbey visit there frequently, once a week and some times oftener. She testified that she had nothing to do with Mrs. Alsmann as she was "not the right kind of a woman to have for a neighbor". She stated that the children were turned out on the streets when Mr. Tribbey visited there, and at one time Mrs. Alsmann said that she cared more for John Tribbey than she did for her own husband.

Ezekiel Jones, county sheriff, testified that the wound on Mrs. Alsmann's shoulder looked very much like a bullet wound on the morning after the shooting occurred.

On January 1 there was 58 per cent. more poultry held in cold storage than at the close of the year 1917.

DENIES CONDITIONS ARE BAD

Gen. Pershing Says Death Rate at Brest is Below Average.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 20.—Reports of bad conditions at Brest was denied by General Pershing in a message to the war department today. The total number of deaths at the Brest camp from November 1, 1917, to the first of this month was 1,311, declared Pershing. The sick rate at Brest for the last three months was lower than the sick rate for the entire expeditionary forces. Pershing's report stated: "Health conditions at Brest and general conditions of the camp and method of handling troops there have received high praise from all of the inspectors."

THE MOST DANGEROUS
OF ALL DISEASES

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out!
Danger is in sight.

Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous,
weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness,
or have pains in the back, wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys
are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing
their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which
are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from
your system.

400,000 YANKS ARE
Y. W. C. A. VISITORS

Four hundred thousand persons and
more served in the cafeteria in one year is the record of the Y. W. C. A.
Hostess House at Camp Lewis, American Lake, Wash.

The majority of the 400,000 diners
were mothers, wives, sweethearts and
friends who went to the camp to visit their soldiers. The remainder were
soldiers themselves who broke the monopoly of "chow" with home cooked
meals. In addition to all these guests, 25,000 little children were cared for in
the nursery and the rest room served 70,000 tired wives and mothers.

The workers at the information
desk received and answered 97,000
questions varying from how to get the
best connections to a destination clear
across the continent, the rates of soldiers' insurance and the kind of cretonne a girl bride should have in her living room now that Private John is coming home from France. Eleven thousand of these queries required telephone conversations with various
company commanders relative to hunting up a soldier whose parents had arrived unexpectedly.

Y. W. C. A. CAFETERIA
IN PORTO RICO

Porto Rico has a cafeteria. It is the first one established on the island, and when it was opened in the Y. W. C. A.
Hostess House at Camp Las Casas the
natives crowded around, much amused
at the innovation. They insisted upon
having American dishes.

The house became very well known
in a short time, and a group of women
from San Juan volunteered to go out
every week to mend socks and sew on
buttons for the soldiers.

RUSSIAN PRINCESSES
LEARN TO TRIM HATS

Y. W. C. A. Saves Wife of General
From Becoming Charwoman.

When the war work of the Y. W. C.
A. in Russia has all been told one of
the most interesting stories will lie in
the establishment of the first Women's Co-operative Association at Moscow.

There day after day princesses work
side by side with peasant girls, wives
of high Russian officials make dresses
or trim hats at long tables with simple, unfettered women, and the money is used for self support of these princesses and notable women as well as
for the peasant classes.

The need and suffering throughout
all Russia was so great at the time
the Association was established that it was a problem to find where the
money would help the greatest number of people. It was thought best to expend it to help capitalize organizations for giving work and permanent
opportunities to families and individuals to earn their own living.

The women bring their handwork to the Association for sale or take orders to do dressmaking, millinery, etc.,
in the rooms of the society or at home.
Suitable work was found just in time
not long ago to keep the wife of one of Russia's greatest generals from going
out as a charwoman to earn bread for
her husband, who was ill.

Mending a Sagging Door.

It rattled the tidy nature of the handy man to have to pull and jerk
at his door to open it, and then to have to coax and push to shut it. A door should fit in its frame, like a stopper in a bottle, he thought. A cursory examination disclosed that it struck at the bottom. Of course, if the swelling had been at the top, it would have been so easy just to plane off
the surplus. But, at the bottom! He tried tightening the screws in the upper hinge, which were quite loose,
but found the wood so soft that even longer screws would not hold. There seemed to be nothing to do but remove the upper hinge, dig out the
soft wood and insert in its place a piece of new wood, which held the
hinge screws firmly and prevented
the door from sagging.

Maxima for Marksmen.

It is strange that the novice will almost invariably try to hit the bull's
eye of a swinging target when it is at
the center or in the lowest position.
This is decidedly the incorrect method. The expert knows that the time
to shoot is at the end of the swing.
In fact, anyone will arrive ultimately
at the same conclusion, for a little
thought will convince him that a target is the more easily hit when at a standstill, or at the end of a vibration.

The moving target as a rule has the largest bull's eye, and is often one of
the easiest to strike, if you happen
to know how.

Simply aim at the point where the center of the target stops and wait till it returns. Then, bing!

SLIGHT HEMORRHAGE FOUND

Premier Clemenceau's Condition Reported Satisfactory, However.

(By United Press.)

Paris, Feb. 20.—The assassin's
bullet penetrated one of Premier Clemenceau's lungs, causing a slight
hemorrhage, an official announcement said today. His condition,
however, was said to be satisfactory.

The statement said: "There was a slight hemorrhage of the lungs at
one o'clock yesterday at noon owing
to the bullet's penetration of the lung. The general condition was very satisfactory. His temperature was normal and the premier took a
normal amount of food."

JAPS FULL OF SUPERSTITION

Have More Foolish Beliefs, According
to Traveler, Than Any Other People on the Earth.

"When I was a very young man I
was filled with superstitious ideas,"
said a "globe trotter." "They were
thoroughly dispelled from my mind,
however, after a visit to Japan. In that country there is a superstition
surrounding practically everything.
The Japanese housewife, for instance,
will never sweep out a room immediately after anyone has left it, for fear
of driving away the luck. At a Japanese marriage it is not considered
wise for either the bride or bridegroom to wear purple. It is held
that purple is a color likely to fade
and that the marriage will not be of long duration. Perhaps the strangest ideas are those which prevail with regard to finger nails.

"The Japanese believe that the cutting of finger nails before starting on
a journey will bring misfortune to
the traveler when he reaches his destination. The howling of a dog always causes considerable perturba-
tion, for it signifies death. It is a serious matter for a woman to step
over an eggshell. It is the belief of
will go mad. There is a great fear of ghosts in Japan and many of the natives keep lights burning throughout
the night in the belief that the flame
will drive them away. One of the superstitious is put to practical use.
Japanese children are told that if they
tell a lie an imp will pull out their tongue."

AN ULTIMATUM TO BAVARIA

Soldiers and Workmen Council Demands Army be Reorganized.

(By United Press.)

Austri, Feb. 20.—The soldiers
and workmen council of Munich has issued an ultimatum to the Bavarian
government, according to dispatches
received here today, demanding their
resignations or agreement to the following: dissolution of the cadet corps; reorganization of the Bavarian army.

The war minister refused to consider the proposals and resigned. A complete political upheaval is
feared.

"I know of many instances," says
Charles M. Schwab, "where the process of retraining cripples has returned able men to their jobs and
has not only saved the man for himself and his family, but increased the effectiveness of the plant in which he worked."

Kind o' foolish, when 2 or 3 drops of

"Gets-It" stops corn pains, it lets you

Reconstruction Legislation

Bill No. 306 introduced in the senate by Senators Strode and Van Aucken proposes to establish on a permanent basis the free employment service which has been maintained entirely at the expense of the federal government during the period of the war. This bill is one of the most interesting attempts for reconstruction legislation in the present General Assembly.

The bill provides for an employment commission of seven members, two representing employees, two representing employers, two members, one of whom shall be a woman, representing the disinterested public, and a seventh member who shall act as chairman and state director of the employment service. The chairman, who shall be chosen because of his peculiar fitness, training and experience, will be the only salaried member of the commission; the other members receiving traveling expenses only.

The bill authorizes the commission to enter into co-operative agreements with municipalities for the establishment of free employment offices in such cities in the state where in its opinion the maintenance of a free employment service will be expedient to public welfare.

One section of the service will be devoted entirely to securing suitable employment for crippled soldiers and sailors who have been trained or reeducated for some particular trade or vocation by the federal board for vocational education. This is in line with the policy adopted by many other states for co-operation with the federal board in making effective the rehabilitation act passed by congress at the beginning of the war.

Another section of the commission will have entire supervision over all matters pertaining to securing employment for minors who do not come within the purview of compulsory education laws. It is estimated that about 75 percent of boys and girls in Indiana leave school before completing the 8th grade. One of the principal functions of the junior section will be to serve this large group of future citizens, in endeavoring first to enter day school, if possible if not, to avail themselves of extensive opportunities for improving their education by attending night schools, vocational schools, part-time schools, and trade schools. An effort will be made in all instances to find employment of a nature adapted to the temperament and ambition of each boy or girl.

The U. S. employment service financed by the federal government has maintained 13 offices in the different cities throughout the state during the war and it is planned, if this bill is passed, that the state of Indiana shall be responsible for the administration of these offices, shall select its personnel and that the federal government will bear half of the expense. The record of the employment service in Indiana throughout the war, has received much favorable comment from Washington, and the plan for joint distribution in shouldering the expense of a permanent service as outlined in the senate bill is in keeping with the future plans of the department officials at Washington.

MATERIAL TO AID
FRENCH REFUGEES

Activity of the American Red Cross Only Slightly Curtailed by Armistice.

FRANCE IS EUROPEAN BASE.

All Articles are Being Made into Wearing Material in Devastated Lands.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Evidence that the activity of the American Red Cross in France was only slightly curtailed by the cessation of hostilities came with the announcement from national headquarters that the war council has arranged for the immediate shipment to that country of textiles valued at $4,532,880 to meet the acute need for wearing apparel among the thousands of people who are making a brave effort to reestablish themselves in the recovered areas of Europe.

France is now the Red Cross supply base for Europe.

The action of the Red Cross will make available for those who are in need in many parts of Europe 13,500,000 yards of materials of the kind commonly used in the manufacture of refugee garments. The material, which will be fashioned into clothing by the people who are to receive it is in addition to the great quantities of refugee garments turned out in the Red Cross workrooms of this country and forwarded overseas. In that part of Europe laid waste by the Germans the scarcest article is material that might be made into wearing apparel.

The American Red Cross is planning to establish relief depots in the liberated territory at Lille, Amiens, Laon, Mezieres, Chalons and Verdun, the warehouses at these points being stocked with supplies to meet the emergency needs of returning civilian refugees. The territory has been divided into districts, and each district will be in charge of a Red Cross staff and a resident who knows the people of the district and has their confidence.

The World's Tractor

This one man single unit two wheeled Tractor weighs 1700 pounds and in ten hours will plow four acres. Disc twenty acres with a seven-foot tandem disc. Harrows forty-five to fifty acres with a 15-foot harrow. Plant twenty to twenty-five acres of corn, cultivate 20 acres with a two-row cultivator. Harvest ten acres with a corn binder. Cut twenty acres of wheat with an eight-foot binder. Mow fifteen acres with five-foot mower rake or pull a hay loader; and in addition can be used for belt work not requiring to exceed ten to twelve horse power.

This Tractor has been in use for four years and is not an experiment. It is superior in every detail of construction.

When the Indiana Silo Company went into the Tractor business four years ago, they found the trouble with Tractors was that they were always laid up for repairs. They have solved that part; they have so constructed it so as to reduce repair bill to a minimum and is so simple any boy can operate.

Tractor will be in Rushville, Saturday, February 15th, and will be more than pleased to demonstrate it as soon as weather permits.

BILL PROPOSED FOR A PURCHASING AGENT

Provides For Agent to Supervise Buying of Supplies For Various State Institutions

WILL SAVE MANY DOLLARS

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—The unit buying system as employed by the allies during the war is as applicable to the state of Indiana as to the entente nations, according to advocates of the bill proposed Wednesday to provide for a purchasing agent for the state. Under the provisions of the bill the purchasing of supplies for the various state institutions would be done under the direction and supervision of a state purchasing agent. It is said that by thus pooling the general supplies needed at all institutions the state would save probably several hundred thousand dollars, annually. Another bill provides for a similar system for the city of Indianapolis and would permit the hiring of an entire corps to conduct this work for the city.

Are't
You glad
That we Bought a
VOCALION
Dear?

That wonderful Tone Quality—I never dreamed that there could be anything so natural.

And to think—we can play all makes of records without changing the Reporducer!

Wasn't it amusing last night to see Mrs. Jones changing the Reproducers on her Phonograph, when she wanted to change from one make of record to another?

No such crude affair for us John—our Vocalion plays them all—Victor, Columbia, Vocalion, Pathe, Edison and all other disc records; and notice how smooth our motor runs, and you don't hear that awful scratching noise either, do you?

Well, I am certainly glad that we decided on the Vocalion for that expression device—The Graduola—is marvelous, and the new Vocalion Records—did you ever hear such clear-sweet tones.

My advice to my friends is—don't buy a phonograph of any kind until you have gone down to Johnson's and heard and played the Vocalion.

You can play Vocalion records on any phonograph. If you haven't an attachment, we'll get you one. Come in and ask about it.

Carmel Myers at Mystic

William Harcourt had millions just around the corner and bankruptcy just one jump behind. Harcourt had a friend, Dick Thayer, in love with Elizabeth Lane. Harcourt wife Maude, determined to co-operate with Cupid. She invited Elizabeth for dinner, Dick's cue being to appear by accident, keep Elizabeth away from her other suitors for the evening and win her hand.

A millionaire Westerner, upon whom Harcourt depended to furnish capital for a new venture, wired he was on the way to the Harcourt home. Then Harcourt's servants were summarily dismissed when they mildly suggested payment of their services would not be amiss.

Harcourt's fertile brain found a way out of the difficulty. He and his wife would act as servants, and the lovers, Dick and Elizabeth, would pose as the Harcourts. Bradford, the millionaire, never had seen Harcourt, so all Dick had to do was make a good impression on Bradford and the million was at Harcourt's disposal.

How did it all end? You can only find out by seeing "All Night," Carmel Myers' latest Bluebird picture, which will be shown at the Mystic theatre tonight. Tomorrow Dorothy Phillips in "The Mortgaged Wife."

Dorothy Gish Here Tonight

Dorothy Gish, whose first Paramount starring vehicle, "Battling Jane," will be shown at the Princess theatre tonight, is the most talked of picture personality in the United States today. Her work as "The Little Disturber" in "Hearts of the World" has drawn for her hundreds of columns of notices, not one of which was unfavorable, and has made it impossible for her to handle her mail without the aid of a secretary.

But twenty-one years of age, Miss Dorothy has been in motion pictures for seven years, beginning with the old Biograph in the days when David W. Griffith was the director-in-chief. She has never left Mr. Griffith up until the present picture, except for two or three small productions under his supervisory direction before he began the work of bigger features.

The personality of the "The Little Disturber" is to be brought into this series, which is an entirely new form of comedy-drama. Miss Gish will not enter into the usual comedy field. She insists on a story as well as her personality, and does not believe that any star should allow herself to be shown with a story that is not worth her best effort. She is splendidly supported.

Alma Gluck at Murat.

Alma Gluck, America's unrivalled soprano will be heard in Indianapolis on Sunday afternoon, March 2, at the Murat Theatre, under the direction of Ona B. Talbot Fine Arts Association, this being the third of the series of Sunday afternoon concerts arranged by the association. The concerts are meeting with the greatest enthusiasm and patronage from all concertgoers throughout the state.

Wherever the city, the announcement of a Gluck recital is a joyous summons that fills the largest halls, with stage seats and standees, too. No one can resist the charm which radiates from Alma Gluck's singularly vital beauty and the appeal of her singing voice. Although a native of Roumania, Mrs. Gluck was brought to America while still a child and educated in New York, and so she is essentially American. Her early life was by no means a path of roses. What she has accomplished is the result of long, hard study supported by a firm courage. Her first opportunity came when a call was issued from the Metropolitan Opera House for a young soprano to create the role of Sophie in Massenet's "Werther", unheralded and unknown she presented herself, and in competition with a score of other ambitious singers she was immediately selected for the part. That was in 1909 and her debut was an emphatic success.

In 1913 Mme. Marcella Sembrich,

who had become intensely interested in the young American soprano, offered her the privilege of eight months' study and coaching in her own home in Switzerland. This close association with the world's acknowledged mistress of song was of untold value to the ripening artist and in her meteoric rise the influence of the great Sembrich has been a strong factor. This will be the first opportunity the Indianapolis and Indiana admirers of Mme. Gluck will have of hearing this great artist, and the demand for seats is very heavy.

Probably three-fourths of all the floating derelicts recovered are repaired and put back into use.

The Reason Why

We Can Guarantee

If a machine is to be guaranteed for five years it must be built so it won't break down. Every part must be as strong as the rest—no weak points. Something besides "bullstrength and awkwardness" has been brought to bear in the production of the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader. The theory in developing this spreader has been to remove the unnecessary strain throughout the entire machine, so that the natural strength and staying qualities of good material and good workmanship, could develop the greatest possible strength and durability.

It was on this theory that the BULL DOG beater wheel and the NO-CHOKE Box were conceived and embodied as a part of this machine. These two features reduced the strain and heavy wear on the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL so that at least 30% of the usual strain on other spreaders is absolutely cut out by these inventions.

The SELF-OILING journal bearings, the Litchfield style of a single lever which starts, stops and regulates all parts of the machine, and the general simplicity cuts down the possibility for trouble and breakage to such an extent that the machine is practically "Pool Proof."

The front construction which the circle front and the Litchfield Style of bracing from the front axle to the cross bar under the machine, the END-LESS conveyor with the SELF-CLEANING hinged sections, the self-aligning beater wheel bearings, the riveted teeth in the cylinder bars, the cross trussed and re-inforced frame, the steel hub wheel and other special features found only on the RUSHVILLE SPECIAL Spreader, all combined give the great strength, durability and long life which enables the Litchfield Mfg. Co. to give every purchaser of a standard spreader a written contract guaranteeing it for five years.

All possible cause for trouble, breakage, and accident are studiously removed and overcome. This statement is strong and so is the machine. The Company is behind it and so am I.

SONGS OF SPARROWS INDICATE THAT SPRING IS COMING EARLY

By Bert Moses

The stirring strains of a song sparrow lured me to the woods this morning. I went out the C. I. & W. tracks to the water tank, and then up the river bottoms to the Green cottage, returning along the race. On the way to the water tank I saw and heard four song sparrows, where the track crosses the race. Going up the river I counted eighteen more song sparrows, all in full song. I also took a census of the chickadees, being fortunate enough to find fourteen, as well as five cardinals, three of which celebrated the day by singing only as a redbird knows how. On the trip I saw three hairy woodpeckers, one brown creeper and one white-breasted nuthatch, the latter being the only one of the kind I have noticed all winter. One single bluejay was found, and one noisy kingfisher flew overhead bearing a small fish. Besides I noted a Cooper's hawk and a single Northern shrike. The latter was in full pursuit of a terrorized chickadee, but the game little fellow darted into the bushes and got away.

The past winter I have made this trip many times, but was never so fortunate in finding as many birds as I did today. The river bottoms from the water tank to the dam are a favorite rendezvous of the feathered creatures. Near the Green cottage a colony of cardinals have put in the winter. I have seen as many as eight in the flock. Associating with the chickadees is a bird about the size of a song sparrow, and it has a crested head. This I am unable to identify. It has some of the chickadee's habits, being able to cling to the sides of limbs, but is not such an all-round athlete and circus performer as the inimitable chickadee himself. Perhaps some reader of the Republican knows its name.

The winter being so mild, the winter birds came to town looking for food very seldom. However, there are two pairs of cardinals that have stayed right here in the city all winter, and they seem to have visited everybody in town. Also a flock of about fifteen purple grackles remained here until about two weeks ago, when they disappeared. They frequented the large apple tree on the south side of Lon Link's house on Perkins street. One had an injured wing, and is with us yet. He daily seeks food in W. E. Wallace's garden, having as associates a million English sparrows, more or less. A hairy woodpecker has come daily all winter to my window for a meal of suet, which I have supplied him on the end of a stick. I guess, from the way the song sparrows sang this morning, that spring is coming early. Anyhow, I never heard so loud a chorus so early in the season before. These song sparrows were particularly tame, permitting me to come very close to listen to their fine concert. The cardinals, however, were quite wild, and I imagine the boys have been after them with airguns.

Along in January I saw a lone robin up a long the mill race, being probably one of those occasional individuals that was asleep at the switch when its kind went South, and so decide to remain here alone rather than make the long journey south by itself.

I am keeping a sharp lookout for the early robins and bluebirds. They will be here soon, I am sure.

TAKING ADVANTAGE OF EXCELLENT WEATHER

High Priced Clover Seed is Being Sown While Ground is in the Right Condition.

Farmers of this county are taking advantage of the fine weather, and condition of the ground to sow the most precious seed that they will sow this year. Clover seed is selling for much the highest price that has been known for years. However, there seems to be plenty of seed. Local dealers report that seed is selling in the neighborhood of twenty-eight dollars a bushel and in some instances it has been known to sell higher than that price. This cost is not considered high by the economical farmer however, as ten and twelve acres can be sown from one bushel of seed.

This is the best opportunity for sowing the seed that has been offered by the weather conditions in years. The fields lie in cracks, left by the long dry weather. Over the tons of the ridges where the corn was planted are little fissures where the seed will be covered when rains come if planted at this time. It is the report of those observing farmers that the seed which does not get into a crack and is not covered rarely lives, but sprouts and soon dies. Therefore, before the little cracks made in the ground by the frost are closed over by the rains, is the golden opportunity for clover sowing.

TOO MANY DESIRE CLERICAL WORK

Thousands Who Desire Work of That Character are a Drag on the Market at Present.

SKILLED MEN ARE NEEDED

Labor Department Having no Difficulty in Finding Employment for Skilled Workers.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Thousands who desire clerical occupations are an economic drag on the market. The placement division of the United States department of labor recently announced that it had no difficulty whatsoever in finding places for all men who had skilled trades, but that the majority of applicants for placement were young men who desired clerical and semi-clerical positions, which are the least paid of all the occupations listed.

A number of newspapers commented upon the fact that young men discharged from the army and especially country boys, do not want to go back to the unskilled labor and subsequent small compensation on the farms, and they in great numbers are joining the ranks of thousands who desire to become office men, work behind counters and the like.

Realizing this surplus, the federal board for vocational education in retaining disabled men endeavors in every instance where possible, to induce the men to take up one of the skilled trades for which he may be fitted, even though he has suffered impairments. By giving him a specialized education and training often in shops, works or factories, and supporting him with an allowance of $65 per month, while undergoing training, the board realizes that it is making his industrial future secure, and when in future those who have been injured as he has, but who have no skilled knowledge are probably being supported by their relatives or occupying homes for disabled soldiers, or peddling pencils on the streets in the years to come, the man who has taken the retraining course will be an expert in his line, drawing the high wages obtained by such men. The status of the man retrained as a skilled worker is secure. He is a respected and contented member of society, asking no favors and not weighted down with the feeling of inferiority and dependence inevitable to those who are not able to make their way upon their merits. The federal board for vocational education at Washington is anxious to get in touch with every disabled man who desires to better his condition.

FAMINE IN PERSIA

Washington, Feb. 20.—Famine and typhus are sweeping Tabriz, Persia, according to advices to the state department. Gordon Paddock, the American consul at Tabriz, has been chairman of a relief committee.

A Woman's Recommendation

Mrs. D. T. Tryon, Franklin Av., Otsego, O., writes: "Nine years ago I was very much afflicted with kidney trouble. I bought different kinds of medicine, but all to no effect, until one day I bought a box of Foley Kidney Pills. I realized so great a benefit from the use of that box that I concluded myself cured of kidney trouble. I feel safe in recommending Foley Kidney Pills to any kidney sufferers. They relieve backache, sore muscles, stiff joints, rheumatic pains and bladder ailments. F. B. Johnson.—(Adv.)"

FIRST DIVISION IN FRANCE

Final Report of Casualties Suffered Shows a Total of 715 Officers and 23,259 Men.

By WEBB MILLER.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the American Third Army on the Rhine, Feb. 2. (By Mail)—When the boys get back and the folks at home begin to hear the real story of the war from the lips of the fighting men, there is going to be a lot of talk about the—division or the—the division and the fighting qualities thereof. Then about 30,000 men are going to be proud to say they belong to the First Division.

Owing to the censorship and the rush and stress during the fighting, little has been heard of the accomplishments of the various divisions except in brief official announcements. Herewith is a brief resume of the activities of the destined-to-be famous First Division.

The division is composed of the Sixteenth, Eighteenth, Twenty-sixth and Twenty-eighth regiments of infantry—organizations with histories dating back to Revolutionary war days. At the outbreak of war these regiments were stationed along the Mexican border. Under the reorganization plans the original outfits were split up and the skeleton organizations filled up with new men from every part of the United States.

After a 2,000-mile journey half way across the continent, the First embarked for "a French port" at 2 a. m., June 10, 1917. The grueling training was continued even on board ship. Upon landing at St. Nazaire—the first division to set foot upon French soil—the troops were hurried across France to training areas. Four companies of the Sixteenth were diverted and marched through Paris on July 4. Then followed weeks of stiff training in the Goudrecourt area under the tutelage of the 47th French hussars. Then the unforgettable entry into the trenches in the Somerville sector. For 10 days the 1st changed places by battalions with French troops and got its first close-up glimpse of the Hun. It was a battery of the First that fired the historic "first shot of the war." On Jan. 15 the division was considered to have graduated, and was entrusted with the Toul Sector, which the old-timers considered a "rest area," but was enlivened with trench raids and frequent artillerying. The next tour of duty in the trenches began late in April in the Cantigny sector, which was considerably more active. For some time the Germans threw over an average of 20,000 shells per day upon a narrow front, with the American replying with a will.

On May 28 the Twenty-eighth infantry smashed over the first real American attack, capturing the village of Cantigny, and dealing the boche a stiff blow.

On one of those breathless days in July when the fate of civilization was hanging in the balance, came the orders to move. In the evening endless lines of motor trucks roared into the rest area and the troops were jammed aboard. Throughout the night the columns of trucks hurried along the roads toward the front. At dawn the division detracked in a forest, about 12 miles behind the trenches, and camped during the day hidden from the prying eyes of German flyers.

The march was resumed at night fall. Through three lines of hurrying traffic the First pushed on rapidly and camped again in a wood, only a few miles behind the lines. At dusk the last lap of the march began.

At 4:30 a. m. on July 18 the barrage lifted, and the First went forward in what was probably the most decisive battle in history. In some of the bloodiest fighting of the war, this division drove ahead from eight to 10 miles within five days against almost superhuman resistance, and captured the heights southwest of Soissons.

In the five days there was not a single minute of pause in the terrible fighting. Five separate attacks were made and a dozen counterattacks repulsed. So heavy was the fighting that at times battalions were commanded by lieutenants and sergeants—all other officers were casualties.

The number of prisoners and guns captured in the face of such resistances showed the character of the fighting—3375 men and 125 officers were sent through the cages, and the material captured included 150 field guns, 300 machineguns and great quantities of other material.

Then followed several weeks of rest and training of replacements while the wounds of the division were bound up. Meanwhile General Pershing was bringing to a close the plans for the battle of St. Mihiel.

Early in September the First was moved stealthily into the lines near Beaumont. On the morning of September 12 the division "went after them" again and helped wipe the St. Mihiel salient off the map. The division bagged 1100 prisoners, a quantity of guns, ammunition, and three legions.

With another short rest the First was again on the way to another great battle. In conjunction with the French, General Pershing was laying plans for the battle of the Argonne, which was aimed to cut the vital artery between the northern and southern German army groups.

The attack was launched eastward at the Argonne, October 4. The First "went over" in the Chapp sector, and broke through in the face of desperate resistance.

Before its withdrawal to rest

Asserts Rheumatic Impurities Can't Stay in Body

When My Prescription Goes in, Rheumatism Goes Out Along With All Poisonous Uric Acid, Says Discoverer.
James H. Allen

"Because he was crippled with terrible rheumatism and unable to work, and because doctors failed to help him, Mr. James H. Allen of Rochester decided to help himself.

Persistent study, ceaseless patience and frequent experiments convinced him that before anyone could be free from rheumatism the poisons and impurities often called uric acid deposits, must be dissolved in the joints, ligaments and muscles and expelled from the system.

It took some years to get this idea into the form of a prescription, but perseverance finally conquered and in a very short period every pain and twinge and trace of rheumatism was forced to flee and Mr. Allen turned himself from a rheumatic wreck into a strong, healthy, robust man.

So pleased was he with his success that he named this wonderful medicine Allenrhu. Many others cursed with the agony of rheumatism tried it with results that were almost magical.

Requests for Allenrhu became so numerous that a decision was reached to let sufferers know of the discovery through the newspapers and now druggists throughout the country dispense the Allenrhu prescription or can get it for you on short notice.—(Adv.)

camp, the First captured 1378 men and 38 officers.

The First division was hurried up to the lines again and attacked toward Monzon on November 6. That night the division was assembled and advanced in five columns toward Sedan. But owing to several French and American units converging upon the same objective—Sedan—the First was ordered back at 2 p. m. Nov. 7.

In a few days the division was on the march again—on the "big hike" to the No-Man's-Land near Abaucourt and advanced toward German soil, marching steadily through Lorraine and Luxembourg, and reaching the German frontier on the Moselle in nine days of hard marching. After 12 days more of marching over muddy roads in cold rains the First reached the Rhine and crossed at dawn of the 13th at Coblenz. By 4 p. m. the next day the First reached its goal—the farthest point of the bridgehead—and settled down in occupation of one-third of the bridgehead area after a march of about 216 miles.

According to final reports of casualties completed after reaching the bridgehead, the First division lost as follows:

	Officers	Men
Killed.....	167	2991
Wounded.....	417	12,546
Gassed.....	101	4147
Captured and missing.....	30	3575
	715	23,259

A GREAT CHANGE ENTERS INTO LIFE OF STOREKEEPER

A certain unassuming gentleman in this city who happens to be a prominent merchant and who up to a few weeks ago had become a recluse because of his physical condition tells this remarkable and most interesting tale:

"For a number of years," he said, "I have been so closely confined to my business working zealously to make my store representative in every respect that wear and tear finally got me. My face became drawn and haggard and my disposition seemed to urge people to evade me. It was then that I began to despise my own company."

My bookkeeper one day suggested that I should read a book and that my nerves required attention. She told me that her father had taken Phosphated Iron when in my condition. "Look at him now," she said. "He works ten hours a day and is the happiest man in the world."

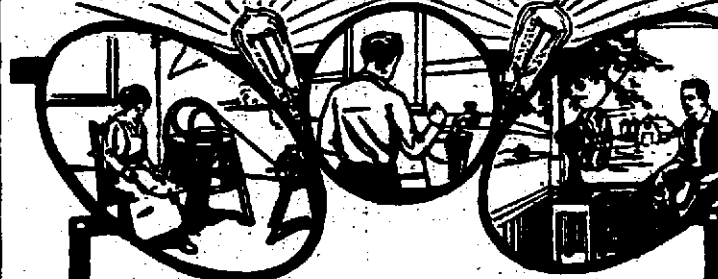

All this happened less than a month ago. I followed the advice and look at me now. Back in the harness with a smile all the while. I am feeling more fit than ever. When I see a third party facing the same old Phosphated Iron, I immediately comes in my mind. I am convinced that it is converting every worn out body into a life rich in thought, ambition and enthusiasm."
